

Work, Live & Create

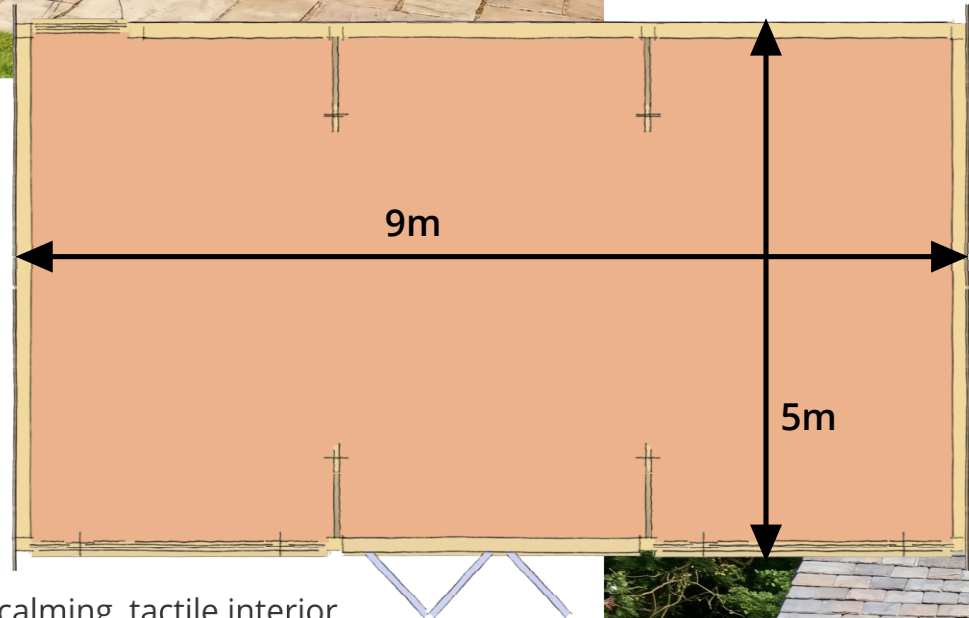

An oak-framed studio is a beautifully built garden retreat that blends traditional craftsmanship with modern versatility.

Formed from substantial structural oak and finished with elegant glazing, it offers a warm, characterful environment perfect for creative work, hobbies, or quiet relaxation. Each studio is built using traditionally jointed solid oak, with mortise-and-tenon connections secured by oak pegs.

The exposed beams, braces, and natural timber grain create a calming, tactile interior, while the exterior gently weathers to a soft silver tone that enhances any garden setting.

- Oak-framed studios are designed to support a wide range of uses, including:
- Art studios with natural light and open wall space
 - Music rooms with acoustic-friendly timber interiors
 - Writing or design spaces free from household distractions
 - Yoga, meditation, or wellness rooms
 - Garden lounges for reading, relaxing, or entertaining

With optional insulation, heating, and integrated electrics, your studio becomes a comfortable, functional space throughout the year.
